The Miracle Continues

On December 11 we joined together to offer our gifts for a Miracle Sunday campaign, imagining together the ways God would help us care for our buildings as a way of continuing our witness in downtown Springfield and to the broader world. When the total was announced there was no doubt in our mind a miracle had occurred. We had set an audacious goal of $316,690 but the total of gifts and pledges received was $381,928. Since that time additional gifts have been received to bring the total expected to $407,754. 96% of that total has been received. Thanks and praise to God and all God's people.

Since that time, work has begun on some of the Miracle Sunday projects. It seems fitting that the project that started the campaign is the first one to be completed. About 3 years ago, Dave Law shared with us the need to repair our gutters due to several leaks and the concern it would soon impact the interior of the building. Many conversations and a Miracle Sunday campaign later the work to replace the gutters began late this spring. In all, 18 different locations of rotted wood in the gutter and fascia were repaired and new copper gutter installed. We did not replace the copper gutter in the elevator addition, added in the late 1980's, but we did have it inspected and it remains in good condition.

But my favorite story from our first Miracle Sunday project was from the sheet metal worker who installed the copper gutter. He told me this was a good project for him. But he was not referring only to the work itself, but also to the way he was treated while working on our building. Often on jobs, he experiences the attitude from the business and sometimes even churches, of wanting the work done, but not wanting the workers be seen or noticed. But that was not his experience at Central Baptist Church and he appreciated the interactions we had with him during his weeks here. It is a reminder to us of our opportunities to be a witness to the love and grace of Jesus Christ even while the repairs are being made. Thanks to all who were that to those who repaired our gutters.

Three Inspirational Books in the Tomorrow's Promise Collection Series by Kathryn Cushman

A Promise to Remember: Andie Phelps is the envy of Santa Barbara. A devoted mother with a loving son and a successful husband, her greatest joy comes from reaching out to others. Melanie Johnston is the envy of no one. A single mom who works long hours to pay the bills, and her greatest joys relate to her teen daughter and son. Then the accident that changes everything. When opposite worlds collide, the impact reaches far beyond these mothers' personal losses.

Waiting for Daybreak: Paige Woodward is out of options...so when a dream opportunity arises at a brand new pharmacy, Paige chooses to keep quiet about her past to ensure she'll land the job. After all, she needs the money to pay for the treatment that can save her mother's life. Clarissa Richardson feels alone. She wants desperately to honor the memory of her grandmother by running a successful pharmacy...but that vision comes to a screeching halt when her grandfather hires Paige, the too-perfect new girl who seems to be hiding

Leaving Yesterday: Alisa Stewart feels like she's lost two sons: her youngest to a terrible tragedy and her eldest, Kurt, to a life ruined by addiction. But now Kurt has checked himself into rehab and found a healing faith that seems real. It's like he's been raised from the dead. Then a detective arrives at Alisa's door asking questions about a murder--the death of a drug dealer before Kurt entered rehab. Alisa fears losing her son again, and when she finds evidence linking him to the killing, she destroys it. Her boy is different now. He's changed and deserves a second chance. But when another man is charged with the crime, Alisa finds herself facing an impossible choice: Be silent and keep her son or give up everything for the truth.

These books may be found on the New Book Rack in the Library.

Happy August from the Counseling Corner!

Sometimes what couples appear to be arguing about is not the real issue. Phil Carson's article on the Prepare-Enrich Blog discusses the three levels of arguments.

Level One: What We Fight About – these are the topics themselves, such as parenting, chores, finances, etc.

Level Two: How we Fight – these are the patterns of our arguments – be sure to avoid The Four Horsemen of criticism, defensiveness, contempt, and stonewalling.

Level Three: What's the Emotion Trigger? – triggers can be feeling ignored, attacked, etc.

Here are Phil's tips:

Recognize the conflict pattern – What does this look like? Do you do the same things over and over again?

Be aware during the conflict – When you start to become aware of your conflict pattern it's easier to make different choices, even during an argument.

Emotional triggers – Sometimes, all you need is to understand that they are being triggered. When you understand these deeper issues, it can raise empathy for your spouse.

Summer has been a very busy and fun time for our center. Our classrooms have so enjoyed all the field trips, special events and of course, water day. Our summer adventures can be found on the Children's House facebook as well. Even the heat could not keep us from exploring and have a great time.

August is a month of change for us here at Children's House. The summer program will be coming to an end as they all return back to school. A graduation will be held to celebrate those preschoolers leaving for Kindergarten. Everyone is welcomed to join the fun on August 18th at 6:00. Classroom promotions also occur this month, marking the beginning of a new school year for us. An open house will be held on August 24th at 5:30. Each classroom will have a theme for learning and families will have the opportunity to view each classroom and meet the teachers. Open house is open to everyone. We hope to see you there.

Dear Central Baptist Church,

Your group has been such a blessing to the James Project families. Thank you very much for all of your hard work and delicious meals! Wednesday nights were the families' favorite nights!

Thanks for being such a great support-we couldn't do what we do without your help!

Kumler Food Pantry-August

For the month of August we are encouraging our church members to pick up an extra can or two of chili, soup, or stew for the Kumler Food Pantry whenever you are at the grocery or convenience store. The Bible reminds us to feed the poor among us and this is one way to fulfill that command.

Dear Central Baptist Church,

On behalf of the James Project, I want to thank you for organizing your "Annual Undie Sunday" drive to benefit the closet! Our foster families are so appreciative of your time and effort that always bring a large quantity of socks and underwear! Always needed items!

In his name,

Sherri Barry

Central's youth ministry programs Downtown and in New Berlin have had an especially exciting summer of ministry. In June, 23 students and leaders served at Camp Barnabas in Purdy, MO (some for 2 weeks!) and had an incredible time serving God and others. The church got a great opportunity to hear about their experiences as the students shared in worship services in NB and Downtown after returning. In July, 65 students and leaders spent a week at Big Stuf camp in Panama City Beach, FL. The week was an incredible opportunity for our students and leaders to worship, play, and grow closer as small groups. Students and leaders shared about how their experience at Big Stuf has impacted them at a special service Sunday evening on July 23rd in New Berlin. In addition to all this, there have been special events planned throughout the summer for Downtown and New Berlin students. We are excited about how things are going with the New Berlin youth group and the opportunity in the year ahead to grow the Downtown group as we have new students entering Jr. High this

Opportunities to volunteer at Graham Elementary School

Do you have an hour or two which you would be willing to put to use as a volunteer a couple of times a month to help with Library books at Graham Elementary School? Several members of Central Baptist Church and some friends get together on Thursday and Fridays during the school year to run the library. On Fridays we help the children check out books. We see 14 classes each Friday, for 15 minutes apiece. Then on Thursdays we check in and shelve the books they have returned and prepare the library for checkout the next day.

We are in need of volunteers to assist on Thursday with check-in and on Fridays with check-out. On Fridays our biggest need is the early afternoon time frame – 12:45 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. This is 3 classes.

If you are interested in assisting us in any of these slots, please contact Barbara McKean at \(217\) 652-9916 or via email at mckean_b@msn.com

The library team thanks you and the children thank you.
